A Short History of the RCM

Covering an area of 44,780 km², which is comparable to the surface of Belgium, the County Council of Témiscamingue No. 2 was created in 1916. Designating the large territory of Abitibi, only 2 mayors were appointed the following year.

Mr. Hector Authier, whose original house is now part of the heritage and is a tourist attraction of choice, is designated as mayor of the town of Amos. In 1923, the Témiscamingue County Council No. 2 was designated as the Abitibi County Council.

In 1979, the territory began to be divided into regional county municipalities (RCM). The Abitibi RCM was the last to be created in 1983, thus ending the Abitibi County Council. The name Abitibi, named after the lake of the same name, comes from the Algonquin "apita" which means "half" and "nibi" which means "water". The two terms combined translate as "apitipik" thus the "watershed", hence the region Abitibi.

In fact, the inhabitants of the MRC are lucky enough to share the territory with the Abitibiwinnik, the real name for the inhabitants of the Algonquin community in the area. This mix enriches cultural exchanges and contributes to making the Abitibi RCM a great place to live.

Social Integration

Leisure, Outdoors and Cultural Activities

In winter and summer alike, the Abitibi RCM offers a multitude of activity options. Whether you have set down roots in an urban or rural area, a diversity of options makes the territory dynamic - from tranquility to meeting places.

The proximity of nature opens the door to an array of adventures to outdoor lovers with its hiking, snowshoeing and cross-country skiing trails, rock climbing routes and miles of snowmobile trails. The vast spaces of untouched nature and the numerous lakes are a joy for all hunters and fishermen, even in winter!

Heritage and culture are promoted by many buildings whose mission is to make this wealth accessible. Many municipalities are equipped with Réseau Biblio, which offers the convenience of a library for reading enthusiasts.

With an inspiring community life, citizen committees and development agents of the different municipalities regularly organize activities throughout the territory.

You will have access to all the information about the activities of the RCM at <https://amos-harricana.ca/en/home/>.

friendly advice

- ▣ Many municipalities run a local newspaper. The activities of your locality will be announced there.
- ▣ A welcome kit with literature on a variety of activities and tourist attractions awaits you at the MRAR.

Champignons en fête

Sports

The sports movement is one of the prides of the RCM. Sport-study is highly encouraged.

Beginning in elementary school, children have the opportunity to be initiated for free during extracurricular activities. They then have the chance to pursue their passion in nearly ten disciplines in the sport-study program. For more information on the programs, search for "Mouvement Kodiak" on the Centre de services scolaire Harricana website under the "secondaire" tab www.csharricana.qc.ca.

Many municipalities provide citizens with modern infrastructures that allow citizens of all ages to practice the sport of their choice near their area of residence. In the last decade, some municipalities, such as Barraute, St-Félix-de-Dalquier and Amos, have renovated their sports complex to offer better services to their citizens. To find a place near you to practice your sport, visit your municipality's website.

A network of bicycle lanes has also been developed in several municipalities. Citizens can travel by bike on a paved path and visit our beautiful MRC.

For more information, or to obtain a map of the bike paths in the Abitibi RCM, visit the Town of Amos website under the "LOISIRS ET CULTURE" tab www.ville.amos.qc.ca

friendLY advice

Two events per year are organized to facilitate citizen registration for sports and arts activities. You can get information on INSCRIPT-Ô-LOISIRS by calling the Complexe sportif d'Amos at 819-732-2781.

Involvement

It is well known that one of the keys to quick integration in a new environment is to get involved. Great news! There is no shortage of opportunities.

The RCM has adopted a cultural policy that promotes the recognition and enhancement of citizen involvement. Each year, many committees and organizations are looking for volunteers to help organize and carry out activities. This is an opportunity to develop your sense of belonging to your new community.

Some organizations offer the opportunity to do collective kitchens. Preparing and sharing a meal as a group is a great opportunity to interact with your new neighbors. Why not share a recipe from your region of origin? Participants will be excited to discover new ideas.

Do you want to be involved in the decision making of certain organizations? Many of them are looking for members to sit on their board of directors. Ask the Corporation de développement communautaire by calling 819-732-6776 or by visiting their website www.cdcamos.org.

To find opportunities for involvement and to express your interest in getting involved in your community, visit the MRAR website under the "emploi et implication" tab. www.mrar.qc.ca

friendLY advice

- ▣ Even if an organization does not post an offer of involvement, do not hesitate to offer your services to organizations that interest you. Perhaps they have unstated or upcoming needs.
- ▣ Why not combine usefulness with fun: many cultural events thank their volunteers by offering them free access to the shows.
- ▣ Don't hesitate to reach out to people to let them know who you are and where you come from. People are often afraid of disturbing, but many would appreciate getting to know you.

You will find an explanatory document that demystifies their differences and provides information on the various housing support programs on the Corporation de développement communautaire d'Amos website under the "Publications" tab. You can also find a "housing for rent" section by clicking the following link:

friendly advice

Many landlords do not promote their rental units. They advertise that their unit is available only through an ad in their building window. You could find your future home simply by taking a walk in the area!

Finding Childcare

Whether you are looking for an early childhood center (ECC) or an in-home daycare, there are tools available to help you find the right place for your child. Having a recognized expertise in the field, the MRAR will take the time to answer your questions.

Visit the website "la place 0-5" which is the only access point for childcare services in Quebec. You will be able to view your options and register your child on the facility's childcare waiting list.

1-844-270-5055 / <https://www.laplace0-5.com/>

The "mon milieu familial" website allows you to find a daycare center near you and to obtain information on available spaces.

www.monmilieufamilial.org

Let's sort it out:

ECC in a facility?

The Early Childhood Centre is a government funded facility. It is a place where all educators are trained as early childhood educators. Each educator is responsible for a group of children of the same age. The center offers educational and routine programs in preparation for the school environment.

ECC in a home?

These are childcare centres affiliated with the ECC Coordinating Office. The educator must take the minimum training provided by the ECC and have received training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). The in-home ECC is supervised and subject to the regulations for ECC centres. It is also subsidized by the government and offers an educational program in a family-type environment.

Private daycare?

It is an in-home daycare managed by an independent person. It is neither supervised by a ECC nor subsidized. However, parents can apply to the government for partial reimbursement of fees

friendly advice

Join the facebook group "Garderie Amos et les environs". Many daycares advertise their available spaces. Parents can also advertise their needs.

Financial Support

Times are tougher and you need a helping hand to get there financially? Here are organizations that can help you:

FOOD BANK

L'Accueil d'Amos

401, 1^{ère} Rue Ouest
Amos (Québec)
J9T 2M3
Tel.: 819 727-1984

L'Accueil d'Amos distributes food in different points of service in the RCM. Ask the workers to assess your needs.

Thrift stores

The RCM has several thrift stores where you can get clothes, furniture, dishes, toys and more at a lower cost.

Tax credits and deductions

In Quebec, citizens are required to file an annual tax return for both the provincial (Quebec) and federal (Canada) levels of government.

Did you know that there are credits and deductions offered by governments when you live in a resource region like ours?

Tax credit for recent graduates working in remote resource regions

Have you graduated within the last 2 years? Are your duties in your new job related to the area of specialization in which you received the training that led to your recognized degree? You may be eligible for a significant tax credit on your next return. Verify with Revenu Québec if you are eligible.

Moving deduction

Have you moved to take a job or operate a business, or have you moved to attend a university, college, or other educational institution as a full-time student in a post-secondary program?

Have you moved at least 40 kilometers closer to your new place of work or study?

You are probably eligible to claim an income deduction on your next provincial or federal income tax return.

Home buyers' tax credit

This is a credit that you could claim both provincially and federally. To qualify for this credit, several conditions apply. You can check if your new home qualifies with the governments by referring to their website, by calling them or by contacting a tax specialist such as an accountant.

Tax credit for experienced workers

In Quebec, since 2018, employees aged 61 or older can benefit from this non-refundable credit while depending on their income level.

Medical expense claim

On your income tax returns, you can claim a percentage of your medical expenses, including drugs, dentists, optometrists, etc. Many people are also unaware that we can claim as medical expenses, both federally and provincially, the cost of travel to obtain care more than 40 km from our home.

Revenu Québec

www.revenuquebec.ca/en/

Canada Revenue Agency (CRA)

friendly advice

In Canada, each citizen is required to complete and file their tax returns by April 30 for the previous tax year (example: April 30, 2019, for the 2018 tax return). However, to help you claim your entitlements at tax time, you can ask a specialist, such as an accountant, to file your tax returns.

Several software programs and websites are available to help you file your own tax returns.

Development officers

A major asset is part of the RCM's strategy to ensure the dynamism of its territory. Development officers are located in almost all municipalities to ensure a continuous presence and regular contact with the population and the various local committees. By stimulating and accompanying local actors in their projects, the development agent stays on top of the needs and issues of the area. You will find the name of your municipality's development officer on the Abitibi RCM website in the "Municipalités" tab. Don't hesitate to contact them if you have any questions about your new municipality or to get involved.

The Abitibi MRC is committed to taking care of our precious environment. A website has been set up to help you sort your residual materials, as well as the items you wish to dispose of. Several alternatives are available to you: recycling, composting, etc. As part of the fight against climate change, this site is constantly evolving to keep the population up to date on environmentally responsible trends.

Community organizations

Don't know about community organizations? Yet this alternative system is full of good initiatives for the population.

These organizations are staffed by people who are dedicated to their members and their cause, and who use their actions as levers to make their concerns known. The common goal of these organizations is to weave a social net to prevent anyone from being forgotten.

To find your way around, consult the directory of organizations and businesses in the Abitibi RCM on the MRAR website under the "Nos ressources" tab.

How does it work?

Download the membership form that is available on the MRC website. You can also fill it out directly at the RCM office.

1. Go to the RCM office to drop off your form and pay your membership. You will need an ID card to indicate that you are a resident of the RCM.

2. Ask the person in charge at the RCM office for details on each transportation option.

3. With your membership card, purchase the booklet containing the coupons redeemable for transportation at one of the sales points.

4. You are ready to use public transportation!
